

ephemera conference on

Post/social/isms

Gólya, Bókay János utca 34, Budapest 1083, Hungary
24-25 May 2018

Day 1 (Thursday 24th May)

9.30-10.00 Welcome, ephemera and Gólya intro

10.00-11.00 Keynote address

Gáspár Miklós Tamás, 'On an Old Thesis Anew'

11.00-11.30 Coffee/Tea Break

11.30-13.00 Session 1

Kasia Narkowicz, "If Brussels says Poland is bad, people believe it": EU dependency and post-colonial resistance'

Adrien Beauduin, 'Central and Eastern Europe: The Subaltern is Talking Back'

Miklós Merényi, 'Coming Together by Forming a Marketplace – A Neglected Stream of Thought in Post-Socialist Democratization'

13.00-14.00 Lunch

14.00-15.30 Session 2

Ioana Florea & Misa Dumitriu, 'Transformations of housing provision in Romania – organizations of subtle violence'

Erin McElroy & Veda Popovici, 'Bucharest's New Civilizing Gentry: An approach for decolonizing gentrification and comparative gentrification theory for the post-socialist city'

Luca Sára Bródy, 'Limits to participation in urban rehabilitation: Unsatisfied social needs and the entrepreneurial spirit'

15.30-15.45 Break

15.45-17.15 Session 3

Ognjen Kojanic, 'Self-Management as Property Disruption: Challenges and Possibilities of Worker-Ownership in Postsocialist Croatia'

Irma Rybnikova, 'From kolkhozes to cooperatives: Restoring legitimacy of collective organizations. A Lithuanian case'

Hugo Letiche, Geoff Lightfoot & Simon Lilley, 'Exploring the real and the ideal in post socialist thinking and its apparent contestation'

17.30-18.30 Walk in the neighbourhood

Márton Berki on the gentrification of the 8th district

19.00- Dinner

Kőleves (<http://koleves.com/en>), address: Kazinczy utca 41, 1075 Budapest, upstairs

Day 2 (Friday 25th May)

10.00-11.30 Session 4

Milosz Miszczynski, 'Mutual dependencies: Offshoring labour and family organisation'

Marko Saranovic, 'Beyond Postsocialist Neoliberalism'

Galina Gurova & Nelli Piattoeva, 'A postsocialist perspective on audit culture: Changing practices and subjectivities of school teachers in a Russian region'

11.30-11.45 Coffee/Tea Break

11.45-12.45 Keynote

Mariya Ivancheva, 'Past/s and future/s of socialist higher education'

12.45-13.45 Lunch

13.45-15.15 Session 5

Ivan Shmatko, Dafna Rachok, 'Haiti of Europe: Sex Work, Police Reform, and Structural Violence in Ukraine'

Andrea Tóth, 'Post/socialism in Hungarian women's reality'

Anna Avdeeva, 'Neoliberal ideologies of intensive mothering in post-socialist contexts: the case of Russian attachment parenting'

15.15-15.30 Break

15.30-17.00 Session 6

Imola Pusok, 'Liminal Ecologies: Post-Socialism and a Disappearing Mining Community in Romania'

Marcin Skupinski, '(Post)Socialist Heritage and Frontier Capitalism: the Case of Nature Conservation and Development in Transcarpathia'

Martyna Śliwa, 'Holding your own in a liquidised normality: The sociological imaginations and society-shaping by new (extra)ordinary characters'

17.00-17.15 Closing